LA FOLLETTE STRIKES A HARD BLOW AT TAFT RAILROAD MEASURE

CALLS BILL THE WORST BLOW YET

Says That It Means Subjugation Of Commerce By Rail Trusts

HE HURLS HOT DEFIANCE

Wisconsin Progressive Calls Vickersham For Attempt To Oust Insurgents From The Party

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 12.—In a scorching denunciation of the Taft administration, charging bad faith in the preparation of the president's railroad bill and accusing Attorney General Wickersham of betraying the public interests in abandoning federal prosecution of a great railroad merger in New England, Senator La Follette paid his respects to the Taft-Elkins bill in the senate today.

"This bill, Mr. President," he said, "is the boldest raid upon public right, in the form of legislation upon this great subject, that the highbinders of big business have ever succeeded in having forced upon the serious consideration of congress. Never before has anyone undertaken seriously to ask congress for a charter for the monopolization and oppression of the commerce of this country, such as is carried in the devious language and hidden purposes of this measure.

An Unprecedented Raid

"Never before has it been attempted to foreclose the people of this country of their rights and to fasten irrevocably upon the commerce of the country the public burden of transportation charges, to pay interest and dividends upon all the watered stocks and bonds which unrestrained corporate greed has set afloat in the financial channels of this country.

"Yet, Mr. President, if we pause to inquire, if we are not already convinced beforehand that we must vote for and pass this legislation without investigation of the conditions with which it deals, without any knowledge of its effect in application, without even being informed of the reasons which controlled in framing it, then we are accused 'of giving aid and comfort to the enemy' and denounced by the attorney general as traitors to the republican party, and threatened with the displeasure of the administration.

A Fig for Wickersham

"Mr. President, men who have grown gray fighting the battles of the republican party are not obliged to have their republicanism certified by an attorney general who, until recently, was known to the public chiefly as attorney for the big business and financial interests of New York. (He was a sugar trust lawyer.)

"Nor will they be intimidated by him or his kind in their efforts to bring the republican party in congress and in convention (as it is still among the people) back to the republicanism of Lincoln—to the service of public interests and public interests alone."

The Power Too Great

La Follette called attention to the fact that the bill as reported provided that the attorney general should have charge and control in all the proceedings of the court of commerce and in the supreme court upon appeal from the court of cimmerce; that a railroad corporation owning not less than half the capital stock of another railroad, might acquire the remainder of such stock, and for the consolidation of railroads providing that such consolidation shall not be construed to be in violation of the federal anti-trust law.

He said that in view of the "large and exclusive power" conferred upon

FIGHT FOR CITY LIGHT PLANT TO WAGE AT CITY HALL TONIGHT

To the Business Men of La Crosse:

A matter vital to the business interests of the city will be considered by the council sitting in committee of the whole in the small council chamber of the city hall at 7:30 o'clock tonight. This meeting may determine finally whether La Crosse is to have a municipal lighting plant. The Gas & Electric company claims it can do the lighting cheaper than can a municipal plant. Supporters of the municipal plant say it is so much cheaper than the private plant that a saving will pay for the plant in four years, and that the entire business district can be kept lighted all night without cost to the merchants.

What do you know about it? If you want to know, will it not be wise to be present at this meeting and hear both sides? Better arrive.

A finish fight over the project to build a municipal lighting plant will be waged in the small council chamber at the city hall beginning at 7:30 o'clock tonight when the council, sitting as a committee of the whole, will attempt to thresh out the relative merits of municipal lighting on a gas producer basis and of a contract to do the clay lighting offered by the La Crosse Gas & Electric company.

The municipal plant idea was injected by reason of the fact that at the last city election, in a referendum vote, the people of La Crosse gave the plan to build a city plant a majority of 500, seventeen of the twenty-one wards in the city favoring the plan. No recognition of this fact had been given by the city administration until the question of entering into a new contract with the local lighting company precipitated the controversy. While it is understood that the administration opposes the building of the plant, political considerations have been deemed to justify the opposition to it being manifested in an adroit manner. A special committee to deal with the subject was named, the members of which are Aldermen Smith, Rose, Vollmar, Tarbox and Lang. Of these aldermen two, Rose and Lang, are avowed advocates of the municipal plant, while the other three are presumed to be hostile to it, thus giving the negative a majority.

Experts to Appear

The friends of the municipal plant will not come to the meeting without their hosts. Jacob Cloos, consulting engineer who erected the Wisconsin Light and Power plant, will appear to present and explain his specifications for a gas producer system, Cyril J. Atkinson, general manager of the gas producer department of the Dornfeld-Kulert company, Watertown, Wis., Mr. Muenzel of St. Paul, interested in the German gas producer patents, and Mr. Burger of the Fairbanks Morse company of Beloit, will also be on hand.

Make Strong Claim

It is the claim of the proponents of the public plant that the saving it will make possible over the contract offered by the Gas & Electric company will be sufficient to entirely pay for the plant during the next four years.

A comparison between the relative merits of the gas producer program and of the lighting company's offer has been furnished to The Tribune by Mr. Cloos. It is as follows:

Cloos' Comparison

To the Editor of The Tribune.

Dear Sir:—In compliance with your request, I beg leave to report regarding the cost and maintenance of a proposed municipal electric light plant for the city of La Crosse to be as follows:

The proposed plant shall consist of a gas producer, gas engine and electric installation of the latest improved type, which will give the maximum efficiency inasmuch as the load is always constant and therefore represents an ideal proposition for such a plant, and which is fully guaranteed by the manufacturers.

Whilst the first cost of installation may be somewhat higher than that of a steam plant, the cost of maintenance is so much reduced that it will pay for itself in a very short time.

This estimate is based upon the cost of maintaining 300 public arc are type, to operate a total of 4,000 arc type. To operate a total of 4,000 hours per annum or on the so-called all night schedule.

The total cost of installation will be $373.55.

Total cost of energy and maintenance on the above schedule will not exceed $31 per lamp per annum, all in accordance with my supplementary report including interest on the investment, depreciation of the plant, and loss of taxes from the La Crosse Gas and Electric company.

Figuring the cost of street lighting for ten years on this basis and 300 lamps at $31 per lamp per annum will amount to $93,000.

The La Crosse Gas and Electric company's proposal on the same basis of 300 lamps and on the same schedule at a basis of $62.50 per lamp per year will amount to $197,500, leaving a difference in the favor of a municipal plant of $104,500, at the expiration of a ten years' contract. In short, a municipal plant for the city will pay for itself in about three years.

The writer designed a plant for the city of Wausau in 1904, which has given the most perfect satisfaction ever since its completion. Current is bought from the local company at 2.3c per K. W. hour, burning on an average of 3,000 hours per annum, the cost per light per annum according to the report of the board of public works to the comptroller of the city, including repairs, interest, depreciation, maintenance, etc., does not exceed $36 per lamp per year.

The lamp that it is proposed to use is of the metallic flame type and requires a total power not to exceed 348 watts, while the old style lamp at present in use requires a total of 511 Watts with the corresponding increase of cost for power. The ordinary arc lamp requires renewal of carbons every 75 hours, whilst the new type of lamp requires renewals only every 225 hours.

Respectfully yours,
JACOB CLOOS,
Consulting Engineer.

TORNADO SWEEPS PINE BLUFF, ARK.

Cargill Interests in the South Probably Suffered in Severe Storm Yesterday

Word is received here that a tornado, carrying with it many cottages, trees and timber, swept away the southeastern suburb of Pine Bluff, Ark., yesterday afternoon. Homes of mechanics, stores, outhouses and other buildings were demolished, trees uprooted, fences blown away and much other damage done.

Pine Bluff is where the Cargills of this city have large interests, including a large saw mill and timber lands. There is no indication as yet that the interests of the La Crosse people suffered as a result of the storm.

WANTED! HELP FOR THE CITY MISSION

Editor of Tribune,
Dear Sir:

Since my appeals to the public for assistance for the City Mission work, in the shape of clothes, papers and Christmas dinner, has met such a generous response, I am emboldened to solicit financial assistance to save the Mission to the city.

The work of this Mission will compare favorably with the work of any Mission in the country. Thirty-five wandering boys have been restored to friends and homes. (Your boy may need help some day and by keeping alive the Mission spirit in the land you may be providing a way of escape for your own loved ones.)

Unfortunate girls have been rescued and assisted to a better life. Numbers of men have been furnished work, many have been provided with free beds and assisted in getting board and above all the Gospel has been preached to the poor. In my desire to get the Mission established my own salary has gone into the work. If this Mission is still to remain as a helping hand of the living Christ extended to the poor and unfortunate, we must have at least six hundred one dollar donations. (Of course larger amounts will be gratefully accepted.) Once a week the names of the contributors will be published in The Tribune.

Trusting that this appeal will reach the eyes of at least six hundred people who desire to help their more unfortunate fellows to the extent of at least one dollar and that they will make the contribution at once, I am yours for Humanity,

CONVICT SAVES PRISON MATES

Stillwater Inmate Hero of Fire which Came Near Destroying State Penitentiary

STILLWATER, Minn., April 12.—Serving a life sentence for murder, a convict in the Stillwater prison known as "Sinbad the Sailor," put away all thoughts of escape during the excitement of the fire near the prison yesterday and labored heroically to save the prison from the flames. That the prison was not destroyed is said to be due almost entirely to his efforts and those of another of the convicts whose name was not given out.

"Sinbad" was employed at the greenhouse and when the first signs of the flames appeared showed an activity which the calm routine of prison life had not curbed.

Warden Wolfer's house was saved and that the entire north end of Stillwater is not in ruins is a miracle. The fire swept district covers an arta of three squares. The estimated loss of $65,000 is only partially covered by insurance.

BELLEVIEW LAUGHING STOCK OF HELL

NEW YORK, April 12.—"I'd rather be in hell than in Bellevue hospital which is the laughing stock of hell," wrote "P. Fogarty," whose home has not yet been located. His note, insisting that he "was the the first of the Fogarty's to do anything like this," was tucked in his pocket when they drew his body out of the Hudson river at Yonkers.

The coroner said it was "suicide."

"DAN" RUSSELL LOSES

BOSTON, April 12.—Branded as an imposter in his claim for the identity and fortune of Daniel Russell of Melrose, Daniel Blake Russell, Dickinson, N. D., rancher, who has been fighting in court here for weeks, was brought close to prinon bars here today when Judge Lawton absolutely denied his claim. The decision caused consternation among hundreds of the residents of Melrose who thronged the court and who had recognized the cleamant as the real "Danny" Russell who vanished from Melrose 25 years ago.

SCALE MT. M'KINLEY; NO COOK RECORDS

SEATTLE, Wash., April 12.—Word reached here from Fairbanks, Alaska, that the Fairbanks Mount McKinley expedition, organized by practical Alaskan explorers, has succeeded in climbing to the top of the Mount McKinley. They required one month to make the ascent.

The party reports that they found no trace of the records which Dr. Cook claims he left at the "top of the continent."

TAFT AMMUNITION TO COME TOO LATE

Oil Case Delay Hampers Congressional Campaign; Hughes May Be Supreme Justice

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 12.—Following the action of the supreme court of the United States in ordering rehearing of the Standard Oil and Tobacco trust cases, chagrin has seized upon republican congressional compaign managers who have been holding the presses on their literature awaiting a chance to put into print that legend "We point with pride to the aggressive, successful campaign against monopolies carried on under this administration." Now it will be too late for the fall elections.

Following is the list from which President Taft is endeavoring to select a supreme court justice to succeed the late Justice Brewer:

Gov. Hughes of New York.
Judge Van Devanter of Wyoming
Solicitor General L. W. Bowers of the department of justice.
Judges Hook and Sanborn of the eighth federal circuit.
Judges Hiscock, Andrews, Tomkins, and Crane of the New York supreme court.

Gov. Hughes and Judge Van Devanter seem to be the favorites in the large field.

SAYLER CONVICTS SEEK NEW TRIAL

WATSEKA, Ill., April 12. — On April 30, Judge Dorrance Dibell will hear arguments on a motion filed by the defense for a new trial for Dr. Wm. Miller and Mrs. Lucy Sayler who were found guilty of manslaughter in killing John B. Sayler after a four weeks' trial and sentenced to serve twelve and three year terms respectively.

Should the motion be denied the defense will at once appeal to the state supreme court on the ground of error by the trial court. Should the new trial be granted, Miller and Mrs. Sayler cannot again be tried on any charge graver than manslaughter.

The citizens of Watseka, while generally approving the verdict, today expressed great sympathy for Mrs. Sayler. She has been prostrated since the verdict was returned, and is under the care of a physician. Dr. Miller had lost much of his jaunty air of defiance today.

Mrs. Sayler made the following statement today:

"I am a ruined woman. It is terrible to reflect that all might have been avoided if I had known in time what people were saying and had not been so contemptuous of unjust criticism. I do not know at this moment what caused the tragedy. I do not know what incited my husband's wrath. I do know that I told the truth on the witness stand."

"I am sorry," said Dr. Miller, "principally for my faithful wife, who is heartbroken, and for my son. Every man knows that if I had wanted to commit a crime like the one charged against me—that is, to deliberately murder Sayler—I had thousand opportunities wherein no possible chance of proving my guilt could be developed. Sayler was my personal friend and I do not know what prompted him to attack me."

"JUST LIKE OLD TIMES"

That Is Pinchot's Significant Remark; Teddy Accepts Invitation to Address Conservationists

(By a Staff Correspondent of the United Press.)

PORTO MAURIZIO, April 12.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt today accepted an invitation, personally delivered by Gifford Pinchot, whom President Taft removed as chief forester of the United States, to address the meeting of the National Conservation congress in Kansas City early in September.

The significance of this is apparent. One of Roosevelt pet reforms was the conservation movement. Pinchot was his right bower. Pinchot and Secretary Ballinger ran afoul. President Taft supported his cabinet member and called for Pinchot's resignation.

Roosevelt has heard the Pinchot side of the controversy, accepted his friend's statements, and without waiting to hear from the other side, he has indicated that his sympathies are all with Pinchot.

It is learned today that Francis Heney, former prosecutor of San Francisco and Seth Bullock, a United States Marshal of Deadwood, S. D., are to meet Roosevelt in Europe and disclose to him the situation in their respective territories.

Both Heney and Bullock are staunch supporters of Roosevelt.

Pinchot's meeting with Roosevelt yesterday lasted almost until midnight and that it was satisfactory to the ex-forester was shown by the broad smile that lighted his face when he returned to his hotel. He was off again at 8 o'clock this morning for Miss Carow's villa where he and Roosevelt again started on a long tramp.

"It certainly seems like old times," Pinchot said to the correspondents who tried to break through his guard. "My walk with Roosevelt reminded me of the strolls we used to take about Washington."

There was a ring of significance in Pinchots words.

BULLOCK ADMITS IT

DEADWOOD, S. D., April 12.—United States Marshall Seth Bullock of this city, for many years an intimate friend of Theodore Roosevelt, has received by mail an invitation to join the former president in England.

Bullock is reticent as to the contents of the letter, but admits he will meet Mr. Roosevelt in London about May 2.

MADISON, Wis., April 12.—(Special.)—Andrew H. Dahl said today he would be a candidate for renomination for state treasurer, and will issue a formal announcement later. He said it would be brief and to the point. He added that if trust companies of the state do not remit the axes amounting to ten thousand dollars he will turn over the cases to the attorney general for collection. The trust companies say they do not have to pay license fees under the law.

WM. BOLLIER IN RARE GOOD LUCK

Willed Ten Acres worth at Least $5,000 per Acre at Jamaica, 12 Miles from New York

NOW WORKS FOR FOOD CO.

Youth Accosted by Police Recently will Have a Fortune when He is Twenty-one

Coming to La Crosse last September very much "down on his luck," assisted by the City Mission to find employment, since becoming president of the Westminster Chapel Young Men's club and superintendent of that Sunday school, and today coming to the realization that next month he will be worth $50,000, is the remarkable turn in the affairs of William Bollier, a young man employed by the Pure Food Company, of this city.

"Billy" Bollier is the young man who, after being seen at the City Mission one day, was accosted the following afternoon by the officer who the day before saw him in the Mission, and was forced to go to the police station, under the city hall, and explain his identity, presence and occupation, and advised to get work quirkly, despite the fast he had lived here six months, had worked nearly all of that time and and a leader in church work. He happened to be out of work aboot three weeks while the Food Company's affairs were being adjusted following the taking over of the company by the mortgagees.

According to the story of the inheritance an uncle, dying in New York, left to Bollier ten acres of land located at Jamaica, within 12 miles of the New York City court house. The land is now worth $5,000 per acre, and has upon it several valuable buildings, according to the facts as stated. The land is so situated that it is expected it would be worh $25,000 per acre within ten years, should the young man hold it for that length of time.

By the terms of the will of his uncle young Bollier comes into possession of the property at the age of twenty-one years, and 21st birthday occurs during the coming month.

NO "MORE DAYLIGHT"

CINCINNATI, O., April 12.—There is rejoicing throughout the Queen City as a result of the repeal of the "more daylight" law which would have gone into effect May 1.

The law, fostered by E. H. Murdock, founder of the national daylight association, sent a letter recommending repeal because of inability to obtain similar legislation in all states and cities. Under the law the clocks of the city were set one hour ahead from May to October, thus making an earlier day and longer evening.

APPLETON, Wis., April 12.—Not in the history of government water power records have conditions in the Fox River Valley equaled those now existing, and paper and pulp manufacturers throughout the state look with apprehension toward summer.

Unless copious rains fall frequently between now and June, it is feared that an unprecedented low water stage along this river will compel every paper bill to resort to steam power and will force fiber and pulp mills into idleness.

Hat Pins, Finger Nails and Fists Cause Assailant's Flight and He Is Captured

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., April 12.—Miss Laura S. May and Miss Agnes T. May, sisters, of Hayti, S. D., routed a highwayman, and, pursuing him, caused his capture.

When nearing the end of a bridge a man suddenly approached the two girls and grasped Agnes. Laura drew her hatpit from her hat and vigorously attacked the man; also striking him in the eye with one of her fists.

The stranger had snatched at the handbag carried by Agnes, and his hand became entangled in the long chain which is attached to the bag, the other end being over the girl's wrist. Agnes used her free hand to good advantage and left her nail marks on her assailant's face. The man finally succeeded in wrenching the hatpin from Laura's hand and attempted to seize her, but she eluded his grasp. At this juncture the chain broke and the man made off with the handbag, with the two girls following him, determined to recover it.

Observing the pursuit the town marshal sprang in front of the fugitive, and, by putting out his foot, succeeded in tripping him, fastening the handcuffs upon his wrists. The handbag with its contents was recovered.

Rheumatism Epidemic

Prescription by Prominent Doctor Claimed Positive Cure

Those who have tried this say it has no equal for quickly curing chronic and acute rheumatism and backache. "Get one ounce of syrup of Sarsaparilla compound and one ounce of Toris compound. Then get half a pint of good whiskey and put the other two ingredients into it. Take a tablespoonful of this mixture before each meal and at bedtime. Shake the bottle before using." The good effects are felt the first day. Any druggist has these ingredients on hand or will quickly get them from his wholesale house.

PACK THE CHAMBER

There should be no star chamber methods in the council meeting of the whole tonight to discuss the lighting problem. An executive session cannot be justified. Friends of the municipal plant project and representatives of the Gas & Electric company should be there to champion their respective causes and the fullest discussion should be indulged in. Citizens, especially merchants and users of power, should be there to learn what the argument teaches. The merits of both propositions should be considered. The value to the city of a system whereby the entire downtown section can be lighted every night without additional cost should be weighed by those affected by it. This is an important meeting for the city of La Crosse, and every man is entitled to the fullest information and liberty of speech concerning it. If the doors are closed, clamor for admission. Public sentiment, when exerted, will open any door.

COL. KIRCHEIS

In his quiet, unostentatious way Col. Julius E. Kircheis slipped away from us last Sunday, before the fact of his serious illness had progressed far past the rumor stage. We had missed that placid, congenial countenance which for years has brought always cheer and never a frown among us, but the uncomplaining citizen who doubtless for months had anticipated his coming dissolution had up to his last day about town buried his trouble under habitual impassiveness so impregnable that those who loved to chat with him passed the time o' day without thought of the chasm over which the good fellow leaned and laughed.

In every walk of life where the good colonel was known (and he was widely known) will his honest face and friendly word be missed. As a soldier he was of the best of the German type that has won many a war and made the armies of the kaiser respected and feared. As a citizen he stood for the best things in public and private life. As a friend he was staunch and true. His influence was always for good—for cheerfulness, duty, progress. Take him as a whole, we have no better men. He has gone without grumbling or complaint, although bereft of life's best years during a period of happy usefulness. But those who knew him have faith that Heaven will find profitable use for a man whose effort here was exerted with faith and hope and optimism.

THE STUFF IS WORKING

The news that transpired yesterday to the effect that Justice of the Supreme Court Lurton, the only Taft appointee on the supreme bench, was of the opinion that Standard Oil and the Tobacco trust are benevolent institutions, probably surprised no one, least of all the trust magnates interested in these decisions.

Hats off to the modesty of Justice Lurton, who it is said sought a rehearing of these cases because he did not want his opinion to swing the decision of the court in favor of the trusts by a vote of 4 to 3 when he, as the latest appointee, would be thus thrust into the limelight. Nay, the honorable judge preferred to wait until President Taft has opportunity to appoint another supreme justice, to succeed the late Justice Brewer. In this, as he doubtless figures, he takes little chance, and how much easier it will be for him when, instead of the trust winning by a bare vote of 4 to 3, they take down the victory by a division of 5 to 3.

Senator La Follette "dug into" the appointment of Lurton, whom he said was "satisfactory" to the "interests." This was hotly resented by the "regulars" but it seems to have been a good guess. Another Lurton on the supreme bench will have made the Taft administration worth while—to "big business"—for a generation to come. Give them the supreme court, and the people can have the congress and the presidency.

SPOTLIGHTS

THE NORSEMAN

"The Norseman," a play of Nebraska, in which Arthur Donaldson will star in the character of a Swede, opened its spring tour on Easter Minday. This attraction is under the direction of Chas. H. Yale and Gus Hill. The play is in three acts, by D. B. Sorlin, the celebrated Danish writer, who has written an original play of the west. The plot revolves around a Swede who is on a visit to America. A specially selected company has been engaged to support Mr. Donaldson. During the action of the pay Mr. Donalsson will sing eight new and original songs. It appears here soon.

AT THE MAJESTIC

Patrons of the Majestic have seen trained dogs, cockatoos, horses, leopards and panthers during the past season but this week they are given the treat of seeing a troupe of trained game roosters, under the management of Torcat, the famous French comedian and Mlle. Flar d'Aliza. They carry enough scenery to fill out three or four acts, having it made especially to represent a duplicate of the chicken farm of Torcat's at Champny near Paris. The roosters at a word from the trainer do everything but talk, and this they do in their own language. They walk a tight rope, ride a bicycle on a rope and run over a set of hurdles. The prevailing opinion is that a chicken has no brain but when they perform feats such as these, there is evidence of comprehension and understanding on their part, and of great patience on the part of the trainer. The act ends with a mimic prize fight between "Jeffries' and "Johnson" in which the latter is knocked out.

Tom Brantford, the mythical McTavish and the wonderful human band fully lives up to his reputation, that of ranking only second to Harry Lauder, his countryman, as a Scotch comedian. His stories are good and his imitation of a band has to be heard to be fully appreciated. Mr. Brantford gives the best imitation of W. J. Bryan t hat has been seen for a long time, having a face somewhat similar to that of the Nebraskan. With but a little facial contortion it makes a perfect facsimile of that of the presidential nominee of past years.

Florence Lockwood, handsome of face and figure and with an excellent voice and an ability to use it, takes a leading part on the bill. She shows the first Chantecleer hat of the season with a genuine French imported rooster on it. Her gowns are stunning and the changes are performed with rapidity that is amazing. She renders several vocal numbers which are a delight to the audience. Last night she was the recipient of a handsome boquet of flowers.

The farce of the bill this week is the comedy burlesque, "When Rome Howls," with Clayton and Drew taking the parts. The act shows a scene laid in the chambers of Brutus. The makeups are uproariously funny and the act proves to be a vehicle for laughter. It is the best nonsensical travesty offered here this year.

The extra act of the week—there are six acts—is Frank Seymour and Grace Robinson, who term themselves eccentric comedians in The Minx and the Mixer. Their acrobatics are rather of the hair raising order, especially when Frank leaps in the air and alights on the back of his neck on the floor of the stage. Miss Robinson as a tumbler is one whose equal is seldom seen, even among the male members of the profession.

Onetta, the Dervish whirlwind, is a dancer of great ability, performing the whirling dance of the Dervishes. She is a native Persian and besides being a dancer she performs several feats which the skilled contortionist would consider hard work. The electric dance with the chairs is a distinct novelty and is well received by the audiences.

Miss Ida Aiken sings the song I. O. U. from Brown of Harvard with pleasing effect. The illustrations are excellent.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

The Iconoclasts

They snatch the axe from Washington
The apple, too, from Tell;
On those dear fables, one by one,
They ring the cruel knell.

They take the gloss from Hancock's fame,
John Adams' name they smudge.
They call our statesmen cheap and tame,
And all our glory fudge.

Poor Fame wipes off her troubled brow,
Her trump she cannot toot;
Why, Warfield's "Music Master" now
Is roasted out in Butte.

Patti as a Substitute

Mme. Patti tells an amusing incident that happened to her on one occasion in an isolated village in the north side of Yorkshire.

A concert was got up in aid of the village institution and the baroness duly took tickets and went. But not half the performers turned up, and Mme. Patti—incognito—seeing the difficulty of the chairman, offered to oblige them with a song.

After she had rendered three of her most popular ballads in her own perfect way, the chairman thanked her.

"Well, ma'am," he said, "you've done uncommon well, and although 'Arry 'Ock, the juggler, who thinks nowt of takin' 'old of 'ot pokers and a-swallowin' needles, couldn't turn up. Yet you've pleased us very considerable, mum."—Washington Post.

An Odd Wish

A student at a technical school in Boston, who had too frequently asked leave of absence, offered on one occasion as a reason, the necessity of attending the funeral of a cousin.

"Well," said the doubting instructir, "I suppose I must let you go; but I do wish it were a nearer relative."—Lippincott's.

His Secret

"I don't see how you make your butter," Brown said to the modern farmer. "I've been around your farm for a week now, but I haven't seen a sign of a churn."

He laughed pleasantly, partly because of Brown's stupidity and partly because of his success in keeping his method a mystery. "Oh, my scheme is a cinch," he explained. "All I have to do is to take a five-mile trip along the roughest road on my motorcycle, with a bucket of cream strapped on behind."—Chicago News.

The Irish of Shakespeare

An Englishman and an Irishman were having an argument on the subject of Shakespeare. "I defy you," said the former, "to find a single Irish character in the whole of his works." "Well, I can give you two, at all events," said the Irishman "Miss O'Phelia and Corry O'Lanus." He forgot Hamlet's intimate friend, who stood beside him while he was contemplating his uncle in devotion, and observed, "Now could I do it, Pat, while he is praying."—Springfield Republican.

Force of Habit

The automobile enthusiast had bought a motorboat. With a great flourish of trumpets, he strode out of the front door in the early morning to take his initial trip. Late at night, he crept in by the back door, his clothes dripping rivers, his hair hanging over his eyes in plastered strings.

"James," exclaimed his wife, "what is it? Did you upset?"

He drew up to the kitchen fire, shivering.

For a brief spell he sat with an abstracted air. Then he looked up.

"It's all right, Mary," he answered. "No, I didn't upset. But when I had been on the water a few hours, something went wrong with the motor, and—"

He paused.

"Well—well?" urged his good wife.

"Well, before I—er—realized it, I was over the side, trying to get the blamed thing to fix it! Habit, you know—just habit!"—Answers.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES.

BY HERBERT QUICK

COPYRIGHT BY BOBBS-MERRILL CO.

It was a situation with some unique aspects. Mr. Craighead began whiling away time with a work on the Morphology of the Crawfish, and dips into De Quincey's Spanish Nun. Looking from the libary window, he saw Mrs. Graybill enter a summer-house, leaving a red hat on the railing outside.

The Morphology grew uninteresting. He shut his eyes, but the red hat blazed on inside his eyelids—red, yellow, green and finally purple. Craighead stepped from the window, scanned the skies for the aeronef, saw nothing aeronautical save the usual flight of aerostats, went into the summer-house, and started at finding Mrs. Graybill there her hair tousled about her head, her little nose elevated in that comical resemblance to her father's, her chin aggressively carried forward, her dress fitting as marvelously as ever.

"Don't insist on my going," he begged.

"I had no such intention," she replied: "You may smoke. If you wish."

"Thank you," and he lighted a cigar. "Mr. Waddy informs me that the late Mr. Graybill was a minister of the gospel," he ventured.

"Yes," she replied, "he was."

"And that he has been called" went on Craighead, "to a better life, a year or more?"

"Fourteen months," answered Mrs. Graybill.

"I have been reading," said Craighead, "a work on the Morphology of the Crawfish. It holds me enthralled."

"So I see," she replied.

Craighead looked up suspiciously, but she looked so innocent!

"The crawfish," he resumed, "is amirably adapted to a very lowly station; but how wonderfully his morphology illustrates the overruling design in nature. The person who fails to glean wisdom from the crawfish has never tasted his inteligence with a bare toe, nor studied his morphology! Passing wonderful—"

"Mr. Craighead!"

Mrs. Graybill had dropped her work and locked at Craighead sternly.

"Don't pose!" said she. "Don't think that I want a beautiful lesson in everything, if I have been a minister's wife. Tell me of Mr. De Land, and—and Sadie Brown, and Mr. Kostomolasky and the chop suey, and—and that life. Tell me, Mr. Craighead!"

It was a very, very marine Bohemia of which Mrs. Graybill heard, I fear. Whether Mr. Craighead's statues were the equal of De Land's when the former took up chemistry may be doubted; but Mrs. Graybill got the impression that they were. The point here is that there was no danger of Craighead's running off while she listened with such breathless interest to his adventures. He explained his natural transition from the study of artistic anatomy to surgery, and then through medical jurisprudence to law; and over all gloomed the shadow of his wonderful, his poetic, hi sepic dissipaderful, his poetic, his epic dissipabut she asked for all the horrible tale, that he might so relive it that nothing would ever, ever induce him to drink again.

"Only one thing would ever do that," said he, "or maybe two. The pangs of despised love—"

"Which you have never experienced?" she asked.

"Never," said he, "as I am now likely to!"

"And the other shock that might overturn your self-control?"

"The failure of Carson," replied Craighead. "That would put me down and out—down and out!"

The jailer and the jailed walked together, motored, and played tennis, in growing familiarity and friendliness. The captive approached the edge of love-making, looked hungry and yearnful, secreted gloves and handkerchiefs, and interfered seriously with Caroline's household duties; all borne by her with an equanimity that spoke volumes for her loyalty to the commands under which she had taken this strange gentleman into custody. She was a very dutiful daughter.

But the relations of Craighead to Mr. Waddy became more and more strained. Theodore Carson, long overdue, had not appeared. No great bird came into view by day; no mechanical dragon-fly settled in the yard by night. Mr. Waddy was irascible. The Nitrates Company had already spread its nets over many states, through confidential relations of its agents with the National Federation of Farmers, spinning aerial monopoly as a spider spins its web; but the more promising this grew, the more galled and embittered grew Mr. Waddy at Theodore's delinquency; for the aeronef, after all, was the thing which had appealed to his imagination and enlisted his desires.

"Oh, never fear," Mr. Craighead protested. "He'll be here in time. Delays, delays, Mr. Waddy. Think of the spark plugs, the differentials, and mufflers and things. Why, just imagine—"

"Huh!" snorted Mr. Waddy. "I don't believe you know a thing about it."

"Sir," said Craighead, "this amounts to an imputation upon my pledge that the aeronef is a perfected and certain success—an imputation unworthy of you, sir, until I have had a chance to put the thing to proof, or you have shown its immateriality. This is unjust, sir!"

"All right," said the old gentleman. "We'll go an' find the dumbed thing. Start tomorrow morning."

"Certainly," said Craighead, in no apparent embarrassment. "With all the world, if you like."

"Very well," said Mrs. Graybill, "that includes me."

"Ah, no!" rejoined Craighead, "you include it!"

Mrs. Graybill's glance said that he surely didn't mean it, that it was ridiculous nonsense, that all such things were absurd, from the degenerate, if interesting, Craighead to the relict of the Reverend Mr. Graybill; that she could never look upon Craighead in any such light, but that if he would feel so, she couldn't help it; but her lips said merely that she had much to do to be ready in the morning.

STATE BOARD TO EXAMINE APRIL 22

Agricultural Students and Dairymen will then Be Given Opportunity to Pass Test

Supt. A. A. Johnson of the La Crosse County Agricultural college at Onalaska today announces that on the morning of April 2nd, the state livestock sanitary board will conduct an examination at the college, in which students and dairymen from this and other counties will be given an examination which will entitle them, if they pass, to make certified tests of cattle. As no student under twenty years of age can take the test, the number of students taking the examination will be cut down some, but there are many farmers who will also take the test.

Prof. Johnson considers the examination an important one as it will increase the number of farmers and students capable of conducting tests of cattle, and as this is to be pursued rigorously here a large number of testers will be needed. Prof. Johnson has been trying for a long time to induct the board to come to this county, and only today was informed of his success.

Prof. Albert Hardy, Rev. Henry Faville and Prof. O. J. Tngleman will give five minute talks setting forth the aim and purpose of the meetings and the history of social and civic clubs in other places. The meeting will then be open for general discussion and decide whether an organization shall be perfected. Lunch will be served at 9:15 o'clock, prepared bf the girls of the Eighth A Grade of the Washington school, under the direction of Miss Binzel.

An invitation is extended to all parents of children attending the school and a pleasant evening is promised all who attend.

How to Stop Drinking.

It was formerly customary for the habitual drinker to take the pledge regularly, sometimes once a year, and sometimes in every fit of remorse that followed his debauches, and then—Break it.

But now it is gradually dawning on the world that pledges do not stop drunkenness. The nervous system of the habitual drinker is diseased and he must have treatment that will cure this condition. Orrine is sold under a positive guarantee to cure the drink habit or the money will be refunded. Can be given secretly.

Write for free booklet on the Cure of Alcoholism to The Orrine Co., 573 Orrine Bldg., Washington, D. C. Mailed sealed. Orrine costs but $1 per box. Sold by O. T. Erhart, 518 Main street.

CAR COMPANY TO TEAR UP STREETS

Beginning tomorrow the La Crosse City Railway Company will begin the work of laying double tracks on Main, between Fourth and Fifth streets and for the next three or four weeks this street will be impassable. In addition to this improvement a large amount of new steel will be laid on Main street as far east as Eighth and on Third street between Vine street and the power house.

The company has connected its tracks on Sixteenth and Market streets.

MAY START BOOM FOR BURR JONES

Speech at Banquet Here May Put Him in Line for Gubernatorial Nomination

Great interest in the democratic banquet to be held tomorrow evening in Linker hall centers upon the presence of Burr W. Jones of Madison, the principal speaker of the evening, and it is likely that at this meeting of the democrats of western Wisconsin a boom will be started for his candidacy for governor at the fall election. The committee in charge of the event has received many letters from prominent democrats in this section of the state, saying that they would be present at the banquet, and it will be the first big democratic gathering in the state to start enthusiasm for the coming campaign. No set subjects have been announced by any of the speakers, but they will select their topics. Each speaker is limited to ten minutes' time.

Aldermen Kohn and Collins are the committee in charge of the menu, and they announce that a fine spread will be served. The music will be furnished by Kreutz's orchestra. The program follows:

March—"American Republic."
Overture—"Bohemian Girl."
Idyl—"Softly Unaware."
Waltz—"Ciribiribin."
Selection—"Parisian Model."
Gavotte—"Shapiro No. 4."
Suite—"Roses and Daisies."
Selection—"Traviata."
Ballad—"Just Some One."
Intermezzo—"Bosporus."
March—"Keep Your Foot on the Soft Pedal."

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

MAY CATCH THE TROUT FRIDAY

Season Opens that Day and Many Anglers Are Expected to Get Busy with Rod and Fly

The trout season opens this week—next Friday to be exact—which is the 15th of April. This is the day which so many of the anglers in the city have been looking forward to with much preparation.

The season for the speckled beauties has been closed since September 1 and those who are in a position to venture an estimate, say that many good catches will be made this spring. One drawback, has been the extreme dry weather of the past few weeks. A little more rain would have helped materially, but then there are many nooks known only to the dyed-in-the-wool stream whipper which will afford satisfactory results.

There has been some dispute among the anglers in the city as to the time when croppies may be caught. Upon consultation of the game laws, the fish is classed as a game fish, the closed season for which is March 1st to May 25. Hence it is unlawful to catch any specie of croppie before the latter date.

Spring-Cleaning

The Human System Needs It.

Mrs. M. Morgan, 411 4th Ave., E., Brainerd, Minn., writes: "I take from one to two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the spring to purify the blood just as regularly as I do my housecleaning, and go around light-footed and light-hearted. I believe it is the best blood purifier known."

Hood's Sarsaparilla so combines the curative principles of roots, barks and herbs as to raise them to their highest efficiency; hence its unequaled cures.

INSURGENCY NOT IN THE QUESTION

Esch Says He Agreed to Talk at Washington Dinner Months Ago

The intimation that Congressman J. J. Esch is classed among the standpatters by his name appearing among the list of speakers at the league of republican clubs' banquet at Washington Saturday night is entirely wrong, according to Mr. Esch.

"I was on the program to speak at this banquet once before," said Mr. Esch, but couldn't accept. This year I accepted an invitation to speak, about four months ago. However I wrote them I could not be present, for reasons you well know.

"I do not think there was any discrimination between 'regulars' and 'insurgents' at this dinner," said the congressman, "as it is an annual affair taking in all the republican organizations in the various states." Mr. Esch said he did not consider the appearance of his name on the program under these circumstances tended to class him among the regulars. It is commented upon, however, in political circles that either through circumstance, choice or influence of the administration, it is a noticeable fact that the "insurgents" stayed away from the banquet.

The party left the city at 4 o'clock and walked to the foot of Cliffwood, where a most delicious lunch was partaken of, after which they all proceeded to climb the bluff and enjoy the beautiful scenery. In years gone by this place was a favorite resort for picnic crowds and promised at one time to rival Grand Dad in popularity, but on account of the difficulty in reaching it, it has been on the retired list, and old Grand Dad is still and always will be dear to the hearts of both young and old of this city. Those of the party were the Misses Margery Gordon, Jeanette Hankerson, Laura Cunningham, Helen Harrison, Mary Evans, Carmel Young, Mildred Eberhart, Messrs. Elmore Holway, John Young, Charles Hyde, Orlando Holway, Jr., Carl Schweizer, William Crosby, Ralph Bradish, Tom Simpson, Walter Shirley, Harry Gund and Edwin Stavrum.

LOCAL AUTOISTS PLAN MANY RUNS

Members of La Crosse Association Desire to Make the Coming Season a Lively One

Members of the La Crosse Automobile Association propose to make the coming season an interesting one and among other things they propose to have a series of runs out of La Crosse, through the surrounding country. Although the roads in the country in this section of the state are not all that they should be, the La Crosse automobile owners believe there is a chance to institute runs that will increase interest in the local organization. "We have not made any definite arrangements in regard to the runs," said Secretary Henry M. Boehm, "but the members are anxious to try out the plan of making runs and this matter will be taken up in a short time.

"At the time the Glidden party passed through this city a movement was on foot to have sign boards placed at the intersections of the country roads in this county, but since that time the state automobile association has taken up this matter and sign boards will be placed all through the state. This will be a great help to those who are traveling over country with which they are not well acquainted."

Free Sample Helps Weak Women

So many of the ills of women are due to constipation that too much warning cannot be given them to keep the bowels well open. They have a modesty and timidity about this that is positively dangerous to their health. It is a function that is as necessary as air and food and should not be avoided.

But it is important to know the remedy best suited to woman's needs. Cathartic pills and tablets are too powerful and salts and purgative waters are both powerful and nauseating. What is wanted is something milder and better tasting, but which at the same time is promptly effective. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin fills these requirements and is being taken by thousands of intelligent American women. They not only use it themselves, but having found it effective in their own case, they keep it in the house for other members of the family, for we are all called upon at some time or other to use such a remedy.

It is a safe and reliable laxative tonic and can be conveniently obtained of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. Before buying a bottle of your druggist the doctor invites you to make a test of it at his expense, and when you are satisfied it is what you want you can buy it in the regular way, just as thousands are doing. So, if you will send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell he will send you a sample bottle free of charge.

Thousands of people owe the present good health of their families to applying for a free sample bottle, for in this way they learned of an effective and inexpensive cure for constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach and troubles of that kind that come from a disordered stomach, liver or bowels. The family of Harry T. Recker, 208 W. Monroe street, Chicago, are among the legions who highly praise this grand laxative and are glad to publicly say so.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.524 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

What Wickersham Would Do

To illustrate what might be expected, La Follette then reviewed the history of the New York, New Haven and Hartford merger with the Boston and Maine railroad. He called attention to the fact that they were competing lines prior to the merger.

New Haven's Bad Faith

"Prior to 1904, "he said, "the New Haven, holding an equal contempt for the federal anti-trust law of 1890, the decision of the supreme court in the Northern Securities case, and the statutes of Massachusetts, acquired 500 miles of electric line.

"It controls also all the steamship lines running out of New England. A storm of indignation swept over New England, a suit was instituted and action was threatened by the legislature attacking the action of the New Haven. President Mellen gave his word that the practices in absorbing electric lines should cease sa oction against the company was suspended.

"After the legislature adjourned the New Haven bought four electric lines and forty per cent of the stock of the Boston and Mains.

Roosevelt Prosecuted Road

"President Roosevelt caused suit to be brought in 1908 charging the company with violating the Sherman anti-trust act.

"The proceedongs were vigorously prosecuted throughout President Roosevelt's administration," said La Follette. "Efforts were made by the New Haven company to delay adjudication. Owing to these delays no hearings on the merits of the case were had before the close of the Roosevelt administration. When President Taft was inaugurated on March 4, 1909, he found the New Haven company holding the commerce of New England by the throat.

"Soon after the inauguration the New Haven induced the legislature to pass a holding company bill designated to authorize the New Haven to acquire indirectly all the stock of the Boston and Maine railroad.

People Still Hope

"However, the people of Massachusetts did not despair," continued La Follette. "They could still rely on the government at Washington and its prosecution of the New Haven under the anti-trust law."

That Little Confab

While the holding law was pending the attorney of the New Haven had a conference with Wickersham, the object of which, the latter said, was a speedy trial of the case or its prompt discontinuance.

The holding bill was passed by the Massachusetts legislature June 18, 1909. La Follette quoted from interviews during the early part of that month to show that no intimation as to a dismissal of the suit had been given to District Attorney French.

Plans Kept Quiet

"French said on June 22, 'the passing of the holding bill does not change matters in the slightest degree regarding the federal government merger suits against the New Haven roads,'" said La Follette. "Four days later he received orders from Wickersham to dismiss the case.

"Wickersham's explanation of his action was that the community most affected by the merger was the state of Massachusetts. And, it having passed the law authorizing the consolidation, the attorney general had determined to dismiss the government's action."

Whole Nation Interested

La Follette contended that the merger affected not only Massachusetts but states throughout the union who had to pay freight rates upon he manufacured products of Massachusetts.

"There is warrant for the assertion that this law," said La Follette, "which the attorney general says authorizes such consolidation was dectated by the president of the New Haven company.

Wickersham's Opportunity

"Mr. Taft was elected president. The people of America clothed him with authority to maintain the high standard of business morality and obedience to the law established by his predecessor. Not in all these years since the enactment of the anti-trust law had any attorney general been offered a greater opportunity to make that statute represent the dignity and power of the great government.

The Public Suffers

"Already the public has been made to suffer the inevitable results of this uncontrolled monopoly. The service is being curtailed both on land and on water. Its rates are the highest in the United States and it is already moving for general advance.

"And the attorney general, the highest law officer of the federal government, sworn to preserve, protect and defend the constitution and to enforce the laws of congress, gives his official approval of a legislative compact between the New Haven company and the Massachusetts legislature to nullify the law of congress and declare that it 'expressly authorized what congress has expressly forbidden.'

A Scathing Arraignment

"If the federal anti-trust law can be repealed by state legislature, if the department of justice at Washington will hold conference with and lend countenance to the agents of law breaking corporations, while they lobby through state legislatures a pretended sanction of their violation of the criminal statutes of the federal government and then, by official edict, make such state statutes a shield and cover under which the criminal corporations may go unwhipped, if the door of the federal court may thus be closed in the face of a wronged outraged public by the attorney general of the United States, then, sir, the law becomes a black art and justice a mere juggler's pawn.

Would Foreclose Law

"Judging by what the attorney general has done, it is not a violent assumption to state that he would have entered into a stipulation with the New Haven road t hat the roads proposed to be acquired were not directly and substantially competitive, that upon such affiliations judgment would have been rendered by the court of commerce, thereby preventing the government forever from making any claims that such acquisition were in violation of the anti-trust act."

Mr. Morgan, Tyrant

La Follette denounced J. P. Morgan, the controlling factor in the New Haven Railroad company, for his "arrogant disregard of public interest in New England," and added:

"Public ownership of railroads is a bitter step to take, but if Mr. Morgan refupses to consent to public regulation of his huge monopoly, he is today forcing aproval of public ownership upon conservative men who have heretofore dreaded it.

"Unrestrained monopoly is impossible and if Morgan really forces Massachussets to choose between socialism and industrial slavery there will be no question of the result.

Who's Rocking the Boat?

"The sea of public opinion is rising and the signs of bad weather are unmistagable. If industrial, if political, if social conditions are overturned, the blame will lie not on the men who are doing their best at the helm and the oars to keep conservative government afloat, but in the heavy passenger, drunk with pride and power, who uses his privilege to rock the boat."

Since the automobile has come the recorder's office shows a great increase in mortgages.

PHILANTHROPIST IS UNMASKED FELON

BERLIN, April 12 Charles May a millionaire philanthropist of Dresden, author of religious books and stories for children, intimate friend of the king of Saxony and a leader in the social life of Dresden, was proved in Berlin court today to be a notorious criminal whose law breaking exploits startled all Germany forty years ago.

It was shown that he had undergone two prison terms, one from 1870 to 1878 and had been the chief of a band of robbers and desperadoes, whose violence terrorized the whole of Saxony. Other members of May's band were convicted of murders, of which it is now believed May was the instigator.

A WEALTHY WIDOW DEAD IN HER TRUNK

HANNIBAL, Mo., April 12.—The dead body of Mrs. Gertrude Maxwell, a wealthy widow, was found today doubled up in a trunk in her home near Palmyra, a small town near Hannibal. The body was fully clothed and the knees pressed up against the chest. The cover of the trunk was close fitting, but was not locked. Friends of Mrs. Maxwell believe she was robbed and her body jammed into the trunk where she suffocated. A heavy club was found near the trunk.

Hughes' demand of last night for an investigation of the legislatures of the last ten years.

NEARLY LOSES LIFE IN CAVE-IN

Thomas C. Kucera Rescued by Neighbors After Being Buried Up to His Neck

While digging a hole in his back yard Thomas C. Kucera, 1411 South Fourth street, was nearly buried alive about 5 o'clock this morning and his cries for help were all that saved his life. Yesterday Mr. Kucera began digging a hole for the purpose of obtaining yellow sand to be used in the construction of a cement sidewalk. Early this morning he resumed the work and when a depth of about ten feet had been reached the sand caved in from either side, burying him up to his neck. He cried for help and his wife hurried to the scene and then notified several neighbors, who came to the rescue with shovels. After ten minutes' work he was taken from the hole and declared he was none the worse for his experience.

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

Every old sore is an infected spot on the flesh, kept open by constant drainage of impure blood into the place.

One of the principal constituents of blood is plasma, a healing property. Where the circulation is pure this element of the blood, which is of a glutinous or sticky nature, performs the necessary work in healing all sores, wounds and lacerations. It does this by sticking or joining the parts together, while nature causes a knitting of the tissues and solidifies the place.

This healing property is frequently destroyed by impure accumulations in the blood, and this vital fluid not only loses its power to heal, but becomes a source of irritation and disease to any open sore or ulcer on the body. Constantly it discharges its morbid matters into the place, and gradually it causes the infection to spread, and the sore enlarges. The morbid matter in the blood comes from different causes. A long spell of debilitating sickness, which breeds disease germs in the system, the retention of the refuse matters of the body because of a sluggish condition of the eliminative members, a continued malarial state of the system, inherited bad blood, etc., are usually responsible.

CURED OF EATING SORE.

Dear Sirs:—I was suffering greatly from a sore on my left breast, which had begun to eat, and at times deep, shooting pains would pass through it, and the ulcer was discharging yellow and rather offensive matter. I consulted physicians, but their treatment did not benefit me very much. My condition seemed hopeless, and I had almost despaired of getting well. I knew that the disease was hereditary in my case, as an only sister, my mother and two of her sisters had died of Cancer of the breast. After I had finished the first bottle of S.S.S. I felt some better, so continued it until I was cured.

MRS. JAMES CASSELL,
Belton, Mo.

S. S. S. heals sores and ulcers in the very simplest way. It just goes into the circulation, and removes the impurities and polluted matter that are the means of keeping the ulcer open; then the sore is bound to heal. S.S.S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and not only does it cleanse the circulation, but it adds every necessary property to it to promote good health. It is of the very greatest tonic value, and those who have been weakened and run down by the constitutional drainage of an old sore will find it the very remedy needed.

S.S.S. does not simply cause a scab to come over an old sore, but beginning at the bottom it heals the place permanently by building new tissue and filling in the place with firm, healthy flesh. Special book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Hot Water Heating

To be right a plant should be installed by competent mechanics. Most anyone can screw together some pipes, fittings, valves, etc., and call it a job, but to build a real modern up-to-date Heating Plant, one economical in use of fuel, easy of operation, and durable, requires more than only materials and tools. The experience accumulated in 35 years of practical work and superintending goes into every plant we build. When you deal with us you get the benefit of this experience, and keep your net expense down to the minimum.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, April 12.—Irregular concessions in prices were made at the opening and in some cases pronounced weakness was in evidence. Amalgamated Copper declined one point in the first few minutes. Trading in Steel common was by far the heaviest of any stock. Pennsylvania advanced over a point. All the other active railroad shares yielded slightly at the start but developed a firmer tone in the late dealings.

11 a. m.—Trading was extremely active throughout the first hour, but price movements were irregular, rallies and reactions being frequent.

Government bonds unchanged; others dull.

Noon—The market held firm throughout the last half of the forenoon with a number of stocks increased activity and making some further gains.

2 p. m.—Stocks were under increased pressure in the afternoon with little demand in evidence around prices prevailing earlier in the day. The larger offers forced a reaction on whch many of the leading issues declined one or more points.

The market closed heavy.

Grain Letter

CHICAGO, April 12.—When board of trade markets opened today there was temporary selling pressure in all wheat future which forced prices ¼ to ½ cent under closing figures of Monday. The May dropped off half to $1.11½ but recovered quickly to $1.12 . July sold $1.04¾ to $1.04½ and half an hour later was acting strong at $1.05 . Selling at opening was chiefly by local bears. Offerings were well taken and the market began to harden at one.

There was even better improvement in corn prices than in wheat. From 57½ at low point on first trades, May advanced close to 58½, an hour later. July sold as low as 60⅜ and up to 61¼. Brokers reported that commission houses generally appeared to have buying orders.

Oats opened sharply higher. Buying of May and July by Patten started prices upward and later floor professionals, shorts and the pit crowd bought freely. May oats opened at 42 and sold to 42½. July opened at 39q and sold to 40.

Provisions had a sharp break at the outset, but prices had a decided reaction shortly afterward. The selling was of the same character as that of yesterday.

All grain except July wheat closed strong and higher. July wheat ended a fraction under the opening price. Provisions advanced sharply in the last hour.

POLE MUST WIN FROM DR. ROLLER

Gotch Issues Ultimatum to This Effect; will Meet Zbyszko if He Beats Seatle Man

CHICAGO, April 12.—Stanislaus Zbyszko will have to defeat Dr. Roller of Seattle before Frank Gotch will meet him for the world's wrestling championship. This is the ultimatum Gotch has issued, according to announcement today by officials of the Empire Athletic Club. Roller and Zbyszko were matched here for a bout here April 29 but since Roller was defeated by Mahmout whom Zbyszko had easily defeated the Pole's manager wished to cancel the date and take on Gotch instead. Gotch wired today from Minnesota where he is hunting, that the Pole must meet Roller first. He adds that he will then wrestle Zbyszko for the world's championship but most be guaranteed 60 per cent of the gate receipts, win, lose or draw.

SCHAUSE TOO SLOW FOR CARL BOND

Manager Carl Bond of the Wausau team, who went to Milwaukee Saturday to watch First Baseman Schause of the Milwaukee American association team perform on the diamond, wired Secretary Hochtrit yesterday that he was nothing short of a big joke. His work on the diamond, he said, was decidedly poor and nowhere near fast enough for Minny league company. Manager McCloskey of the Brewers offered Schause to Wausau.

Dolan, who held down the initial sack last year, and incidentally made a few hits, will no doubt be seen in the vicinity of the same garden again this season.

PARIS, April 12.—The French Academy of Aeronautics today announced arrangements for a course in aviation to those 19 year old men who, in 1911 will start to serve their two years military service and who wish to enter this branch of the army.

LANG LOSES TO OUR TOM BURNS

Australian Champion Bereft of Title by Referee's Decision; Burns in Poor Condition

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 12.—Bill Lang, Australian heavyweight champion, lost the title to Tommy Burns in a twenty round fight. Burns got the devision on points.

Lang showed considerable improvement over his fights with Squires and Fitzsimmons, but still was unable to connect well with the slippery Canadian fighttr, whose left jabs,parried with a solid right cross time and again shook the native fighter severely.

Burns did not seem to be in the best of condition and certainly was not as good as he was the day he was beaten by Jack Johnson for the world's championship.

KLING'S FINE IS NOT PAID

Big Money Offered Him in Semi-pro Ball; Announces He will Personally Manage Team

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 12.—As the days pass it appears less and less probable that Catcher Johnny Kling will pay the fine imposed by the national baseball commission and return to the Chicago Cubs.

"Noisy John" has made not the slightest move toward fulfilling the terms of his reinstatement and fans here are beginning to believe that Kling never intended from the start to report to the Cubs. Many declare the whole scheme of applying for reinstatement was an advertising dodge.

Kling took a prominent part in the reorganization of the inter-city league, arranged to have a semi-professional club in that league and announced that he personally would manage his team. Kling further declared today that he had been offered 14 games in New York for his semi-professional team and would probably make the trip, meeting clubs at Chicago, Cincinnati, Boston and New York enroute. Kling thinks he can make at least $5,000 profit on such a trip and believes it would be foolish for him to play with Chicago at $4,500 when there is such easy money in sight.

Kling Says No

Kling has practically admitted that all things considered he does not feel that he has $700 to spare to pay his fine before he joints the Cubs, it looks as though some one with a roll will have to drop it in John's pocket or leave it laying some place where he can find it. Kling was so anxious that President Murphy know he had drawn a check last week that he suggested to the local correspondents that they photograph it and send a facsimile to the Chicago papers. This was done but Murphy did not bite and write Kling, saying he would reimburse him.

"Why," said Kling, "he didn't even send me a ticket so I could join the team. All I got from Chicago was a postcard which read, 'Oh, you kid.'"

Persons who know Kling here say it is a safe bet that he will not join the Cubs this season for Murphy is not believed to be in a humor to pay his fine or advance his salary on the sly.

ED STAVRUM IS ELECTED CAPTAIN

High Forward Is Honored by His Teammates; Also Temporarily Heads Ball Team

Ed Stavrum, the fast forward of the local high school basketball team for the past two years, was chosen captain of the 1911 team yesterday afternoon.

Staxrum proved to be one of the best forwards who has ever played on a local team, and much of the high's success this year was due to his fine work. He played a grand game until he was taken sick at Madison, and it is certain that the team would have made an even better showing than it did had he been able to play through the entire tournament. However, it is certain that he will be even faster next year, and is sure to make a fine leader for the high school team.

Win Class Championship

By defeating the advanced juniors 10 to 8 yesterday, the senior girls won the class championship, and the banner which goes to the winning term. The game was close all the way, and at the call of time the score stood 7 to 7. It was decided to play the tie off, after which each five made a foul basket, then came the field basket by C. Reimers, which won the game for the seniors.

Calls Ball Recruits

Ed Stavrum, who has been appointed temporary captain of the baseball team in the absence of Olson, captain-elect, issued a call for candidates to report, and a great many turned out for the first practice of the season last night. Although there was no regular first team, a game was played between two pickup teams, and it was demonstrated that there is some good material in school.

No regular games have as yet been scheduled, but nearby towns will be played as in the past, and Manager Harry Gatterdam is on the watch for any good team to play. No interscholastic games will be played before the first of May, but the faculty team will probably be played soon. This will doubtless prove a good game, as the faculty have some good players among them.

Great interest is being displayed in baseball this year, and several teams are now being organized. The Lincoln-Douglas and Wendell-Phillips Debating societies are organizing teams, and the Lit club has also been thinking of getting up a nine. There is sure to be lively competition between these teams, and some good material is sure to be developed for the first team.

Play Plans Advance

From all reports "The Cricket on the Hearth," to be given by the Artemis club of the high school, is coming along nicely, and everything indicates that it will be one of the best plays ever given at the high school. Miss Cora Desmond has been coaching the players, and as she has coached many of this kind of plays she is sure to make a success of this one. The book was written by Chas. Dickins, and everybody who has read the book should see the play. It will be divided into three acts, which will have something doing all the time, and which will surely please the most particular critic.

WHITE SOX BACK ON HOME GROUNDS

CHICAGO, April 12.—The first of the Chicago baseball clubs to return home was the White sox whose members reached here today and rested up preparatory to the opening of the American league season here on Thursday. President Comiskey looked over his players during their practice today and it is expected that many releases and trades will be announced tomorrow.

ALBANIANS RIOT; TURKEY IN DANGER

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 12.—An announcement just made by the government that an agreement had been reached, whereby the rebellious Albaians agree to lay down their arms, is generally believed to be a ruse to hide the reverses suffered by the government troops sent to Albania.

CONSTANTINOPLE, via Philippopolis, April 12.—Four Turkish cruisers and eight torpedo boats steamed for the Adriatic Monday to assist in suppressing the rebellion that is now sweeping practically all of Albania. The entire army corps is also hastening to the scene.

The cabinet today decided that the preservation of the present regime rests upon the prompt quelling of thes insurrectionary movement and the entire military and naval strength of Turkey may be employed before the week is over.

Today's dispatches say several thousand rebels are tearing up the tracks of the Uskub-Mitrovitza railway to delay the arrival of the loyalist reinforcements.

It is reported the rebels ambushed an entire regiment of government troops near Bessina, killing most of the soldiers and blinding and maiming the prsoners taken.

The government's offer of taxation concessions to the Albanians if they would lay down their arms has been flatly rejected by the rebel leaders.

The rebels demand the restoration of the old regime and the return to power of Abdul Hamid.

There is an increasing suspicion that Austria is encouraging the revolt.

DAIRYMEN DECIDE TO EXPAD SOON

At the meeting of the La Crosse County Tuberculin and Dairy Testing association at Onalaska Saturday afternoon it was practically decided that another association would have to be formed to take care of the rapidly increasing work of the body. This association will be a branch and will be in charge of a man under the supervision of the chief tester. The principal work of the afternoon was the discussion of the work and the consideration of several applicants for a man to take charge, but no selection has as yet been made. He is to be a member of the faculty of the college and have direct charge of the associations. He must also be able to instruct in the care of dairy herds. At the present time 47 dairymen belong to the association. The work now will be to secure a man to fill the position.
